Basically the bench can be considered as a 'social' frontier, allowing to 'link' people, it is a sort of symbol of the past, but at the same time an 'icon' for the future. RE-cord is a public seating that offers the possibility to become (ideally) an endless object, it is totally manufactured using natural fiber, a 'piece' of cord as result of RE-search around shape and forming, an idea to RE-assign value to used things that in a simple way show us a peculiar principle of sustainability.
